

GOLDFARB
BULLETIN

Culled From The EDITOR'S PEN

With the advent of Chanukah comes the recollection of the customary gay family reunions amongst the people of our faith.

Whether far or near we too have always made it our business to join in family get togethers and to greet each other joyously.

The next official meeting of the Goldfarb Society falls on the eve of Chanukah, and it is therefore fitting and proper that we link the chain of kinship and friendship with renewed comradeship and enthusiasm to inspire us to carry on and make this coming year a fruitful one, fruitful in every sense of the word.

We hope that these bulletins, which we intend to issue from time to time, will help to create a feeling of unity and intimacy, thus paving the path for increased activity and progress.

If you have anything to report, constructive criticisms to make, suggestions to give, please do not hesitate to send them to us. In this way you will help to make this bulletin a great success.

A MESSAGE FROM OUR PRESIDENT

With the advent of the Goldfarb Bulletin, it is gratifying to note that our Society is blossoming forth as a real, vital and pulsating organization. A publication always serves as an excellent medium for the dissemination of news, and tends to strengthen the bonds of friendship among members. I feel confident that we can now look forward to increased activity!

When we organized, we were the pioneers in organizations of that type. Since then other families have followed in our steps. Some of them have outdistanced us in energy and enthusiasm, to our regret.

The Goldfarb Family name is one justly to be proud of. Cohesion among our relatives always was a cardinal factor among us. Cousins knew each other intimately. Of late, the reverse has been the fact. Let us throw off the shackles of indifference and re-introduce the spirit of fraternity and union.

I wish to congratulate the editors. I am sure that not only will they enjoy their new tasks but they will also have the crowning glory of furthering our Cause.
